U. S. DESTROYERS "GET" ANOTHER SUBMARINE

PLANNING TO POOL ALL RAILROADS OF NATION

Owing to Unprecedented Congestion on All Traffic Lines.

Railroads and Government Officials Take Up Proposal in Conference Today.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, November 24.—A plan for pooling the entire railroad equipment and traffic of the United States was taken up at a conference today between government officials and railroad heads.

Congestion has reached a stage it is realized where radical measures must be put in force if the traffic is moved.

NEED URGENT

The conference was attended by members of the railroad war board, Robert S. Lovett, government director of priority transportation; Field Administrator Garfield; Food Administrator Hoover, Chairman Hurley of the Shipping Board and others.

Although the railroads are handling a much larger volume of freight and passenger traffic than they have ever moved before, railroad officials admit that unless something is done immediately the lines cannot carry all that is offered.

Even pooling the tracks and equipment will not be enough, it is believed, and they have presented to the government a list of more than 500 commodities of which they ask abolition, claiming that their movement is not essential.

MAXIMALISTS ARE SCORNE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, November 24.—Ambassador Bakhmeteff, of Russia, formally notified the State Department today that the Embassy does not recognize the authority of the extremists now in control of the Foreign Office. Three of the chief officers of the Russian Embassy resigned today to avoid having further relations with the Bolsheviks now controlling the Petrograd Foreign Office.

STARTING TROUBLE WITH FOOD BOARDS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., November 24.—Reports have been received at Federal Food Administration headquarters that anti-American interests have stirred up opposition to the food conservation plans, particularly the food pledge campaign, according to a statement made today by Fred C. Croxton, food administrator for Ohio. In one county members of a local food committee have received warnings to cease their activities.

General Allenby, of the British army, whose troops have swept through Palestine and are now at the very gates of Jerusalem. His forces are keeping close in touch with the sea, establishing firm lines of communication.

SUSPECTS ARE HELD FOR FIRE

Pittsburg Police Land Wrothy Pair Behind Bars.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Pittsburgh, November 24.—Chas. Levine and Isadore Belosof arrested last night when the police raided a lodging house, were today turned over to the Federal authorities by a police magistrate, on the belief that they knew something concerning the fire which recently destroyed a number of B. & O. railroad piers in Baltimore.

At the hearing before the magistrate it developed that a diary and two letters referring to recent explosions and the B. & O. fire were found on the prisoners.

CAMP SHERMAN IS SPEEDING UP

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Camp Sherman, November 24.—More speeding up of preparations were made today for the 48th Motor supply train which will soon be doing duty on foreign soil.

Orders were issued today for the transferral of 94 men from the various units to the supply train, and requests have been sent out to all recruiting offices to enlist all men possible with the idea that the train will be in France long before the remaining units of the national unit have finished their training here.

DENIES STATEMENT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Cincinnati, O., November 24.—Health officer Landis of this city who was quoted yesterday as having said "that conditions were no worse at Longview than in all other state insane institutions," today issued a denial that he had made such a statement.

Cabled Report by Admiral Sims of Destruction of Another Undersea Pirate "U" Boat of the Huns Reaches Navy Department Today and is Made Public by Officials.

DEPTH BOMB SENT U-BOAT DOWN ALL OF CREW ON BOARD WERE LOST EFFORTS TO TOW WRECK IN FUTILE

Two Destroyers Took Part in the Action, Sighting the Periscope First at 400 Yards. Boat Apparently Shattered When Bomb Exploded.

WASHINGTON, November 24.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—News of the destruction of another German submarine by American destroyers reached the Navy Department today, in a cable report from Vice Admiral Sims.

The submarine, damaged by a depth bomb, went down with all on board, after a destroyer had attached a line and was attempting to take her in tow.

Two destroyers took part in the action, one sighting a periscope at 400 yards ahead of it and dropped a deadly depth bomb. Soon afterward it came to the surface with no sign of life on board. The second destroyer attached a line, but the u-boat, apparently shattered by the bomb, went to the bottom.

BRITISH OFFENSIVE PUSHES ON

British Army Headquarters in France, November 23.—(Associated Press Cable)—The main attacks on the opening of the offensive today were along the western bank of the canal Du Nord, which runs almost due north and south from a point a little west of Hagrincourt.

The main Hindenburg line trenches were built along this waterway and the British had to fight their way up the big ditch.

BRITISH TAKE BOURLON WOOD

British Army Headquarters in France, November 24.—(Associated Press Cable)—Bourlon Wood, which dominates Cambrai from the west, probably is in the hands of the British this morning.

A STEADY PUSH BY BRITISH

General Byng's Army Settles Down to Old Hammering Tactics.

Offensive Is Now Spreading Out and Consolidating.

Italian Front Is Still Holding Firmly Against Attack.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

General Byng has settled down to a steady push against the German lines west of Cambrai, after his recent dash, and has made progress along a front of 6 miles. It is announced that more than 100 guns were captured by the British.

The British pressure is now being directed northward on the east and west line running between Fontaine and Queant. The apparent object is not only to carry the encircling movement about Cambrai, but to drive in behind the former Hindenburg line and Quend Dan Court Switch thus rendering the later useless as a necessary line of defense.

Valuable high ground around the dominating woods was taken yesterday and progress made further west of the canal Du Nord. Additional ground also was gained near Bullecourt.

ITALIAN FRONT

The Italian front is still holding firmly, although its defense is costing the Italians heavily in men. There were further efforts to break through the lines on the western flank near the Asiago plateau, but General Diaz's troops withstood these attacks.

The site of ancient Mizpah, 5,000 yards west of the Jerusalem-Nabulus road, has been stormed by the British.

The bait of a separate peace offered by the Bolshevik government in Petrograd apparently has attracted the Central Powers.

American government officials regard the Bolshevik offer as an act that would place Russia in the list of unfriendly nations.

VIENNA IN NEED

(Associated Press Cable) London, November 24.—Vienna is threatened with a shortage of grain, bread and other foods, owing to transport difficulties, according to reports made at a conference of a local food organization.

BRITISH ADVANCE THREATENS CAMBRAI

General Byng's surprise drive has brought the British within gunshot of the important railroad centre, Cambrai, and to the rear of the German lines defending Douai. He has also put in jeopardy the whole German line running to the south of Leon, and further progress might well bring great disaster to the Kaiser's forces. This situation is shown in the larger map. The large arrow (A) on the smaller map shows where the main British drive was made. Its greatest depth was reached on the Escaut Canal and this barrier has been crossed southeast of Cambrai. Further north a local advance was made near the top of the Hindenburg line. At (B) the French have struck another blow.

GOMPERS RE-ELECTED.

Buffalo, November 24.—(Associated Press Dispatch)—Samuel Gompers was re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor at the closing session here today.

Springfield, O., November 24.—John M. Hinkle, prominent farmer was acquitted today on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Grace Rebelle.

CALL IS ISSUED TO NATIONAL BANKS

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, November 24.—The controller of the currency today issued a call for condition of all National banks at the close of business November 20th.

FLOUR PRICES COMING DOWN

Hoover Reports Nearer Approach to Wheat Prices.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, November 24.—Marked increase in flour production and normal deliveries of wheat by farmers were noted today by food administrator Hoover in his October report to Congress.

He reported that wholesale and retail flour prices were rapidly adjusting themselves to the fixed wheat price.

I. W. W. SUSPECTED OF BURNING DEPOT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Muskogee, Okla., November 24.—The Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf railroad depot at Henryetta, burned to the ground last night and firemen saved a large number of freight cars standing on tracks only after a hard fight.

Eighteen alleged members of the I. W. W. have been arrested there during the past few days, and officers declare they had been warned of the threats to destroy the company's property.

FIRST VESSEL

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, November 24.—With the sliding of an 8500 ton steel ship down the ways of a Pacific coast ship yard today, the Shipping Board recorded the launching of the first of the fleet it is building.

CONTROL OF MINES NEXT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, November 24.—How far the government is disposed to go if necessary to force the continued supply of coal from the mines is evident by fuel administration acts during the past 24 hours.

Its approval of the producers pool at Cleveland to handle mines in Ohio, West Virginia, a part of Pennsylvania and part of Tennessee and Kentucky and the understanding that pools will be encouraged by the government lead to suggestions in authoritative quarters that eventually government pooling and sale of the coal mines in the United States is possible.

30 000 MEN IDLE THROUGH LACK OF COAL

AMONG WOMEN WAR WORKERS

The Red Cross headquarters have presented a scene of unusual activity the past few days. New impetus came with the arrival of new yarn and women who have not been knitting heretofore are now busily at work.

More yarn for sweaters was given out this week than has ever been given out in one week before, and there is still plenty to be had.

Women generally are responding as they have not before and with greater enthusiasm.

There is work for everybody. Those who cannot sew or knit can snip and this work of snipping for comfort pillows is both necessary and appreciated. Women are asked to send clippings in as fast as they are done so they can be forwarded right along.

There were not quite enough knitted articles ready to send Friday so the forwarding of the box was postponed until the first of the week, when it is expected quite a number will be added to those already in.

A Record in Sweaters.

Mrs. Nancy Roberts has finished eight sweaters and is now getting ready to start on her ninth. Several have reported having finished six, but so far as is known Mrs. Roberts holds the sweater record up to date.

Motors Donated.

The Washington Gas and Electric Company has donated two motors to be used in the operation of sewing machines at the War Relief rooms.

The motors will greatly facilitate fast work and are fully appreciated helps.

Call to Volunteers.

On the theory that the Red Cross is really a big national factory and must have its output of life-saving articles if it is to offset the death-dealing output of the munition factories, Columbus has sent out a call for 5,000 Red Cross volunteers.

Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Columbus women are going to be asked to sign a card which pledges them to a certain amount of Red Cross work each week. The government drafts men for service—the Red Cross appeals to women. New units in knitting, sewing and making surgical supplies are being formed and they need more women.

Mrs. E. M. Fullington, head of the Red Cross sewing department in Columbus, speaks for all cities and towns when she says:

"If they knew our need, I am sure every woman in Columbus would wake up and do her share. It is a patriotic duty and we need help sorely."

"Who are the best, the steadiest workers?" was asked Mrs. Fullington. She did not even hesitate in her answer. "The church women," she replied. "The women who have learned to sew in groups at the old-time missionary meetings only know their energies are directed toward helping their own instead of the mission workers."

Clubs, individuals, units—they are all needed, all wanted.

"Women in the East have put aside everything to work for the Red Cross," said Mrs. B. Gwynn Huntington. "In New London last summer every woman and girl who was old enough to handle a needle was spending not an hour a week but hours each day working for the Red Cross. Ohio women have not fully realized the great need. That is the reason they are not all working."

The "Columbus" plan is that in order that the Red Cross may know definitely what it can depend upon, workers are asked to sign registration cards for a definite hour and day of service. In this way work can be planned systematically for them.

IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. W. H. Hetteshimer was called to Greenfield, Friday evening, having received word of the sudden illness of her nephew, Master Robert Smith of Frankfort, who underwent an operation, performed by Dr. Jones at the hospital at Greenfield.

His condition is very grave. His illness is due to appendicitis. Bernard Smith brother of Robert accompanied Mrs. Hetteshimer to Greenfield.

THE STATE WAR BOARD SAYS TODAY

It is necessary that we conserve sugar to the greatest possible extent.

The sweet potato is one food that will furnish us with a considerable amount of sugar at the lowest possible cost.

In the South the sweet potato is estimated one of the most delicious articles on the table. The South has produced an immense crop of sweet potatoes this year and great quantities of them will find their way into the northern markets if the consumers will create a demand for them.

The southern sweet potato may be baked or steamed economically. Sweet potato pie is a delicious southern dish, made as you would make pumpkin pie, simply substituting the sweet potato for the pumpkin.

ROSS COUNTY BOY WRITES TO FOLKS FROM 'OVER THERE'

Here is a letter written by a member of the 166th United States Infantry, commonly known as the "Rainbow Division" from "over there," and was written to the young man's mother, Mrs. Lulu Conrad, in Ross county:

ON ACTIVE SERVICE WITH THE AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE.

November 2, 1917.

Dear Mother and All:

I am at last "Somewhere in France" and am safe and well. We got off the boat today, after being on it for about fifteen days. The land sure did look good. I was glad to get off the ship and so was every one else. There are a lot of soldiers here and also marines. This is certainly a queer country, for language is very odd. A few of the soldiers can speak the French language and they sure do jabber some. When we arrived in the harbor everyone was glad of it, for we were all stiff and sore from lying around. At least I was, for we didn't have much of anything to do except guard duty every fourth day and I only caught that twice. I sure did lay around the first four days for that seasickness is something fierce. I didn't eat anything during the four days I was sick.

The French women sold apples in the harbor, and believe me they tasted fine, after not having had any fruit for two weeks. The people here row their boats with one oar in the stern and it was a common sight to see four or five small boys in the bay, with nothing but an old board for an oar, but they went through the water all right.

Over here the people mostly use carts and there are a lot of horses and carts going around. Right close to camp there are several farms and it is a sight to see the farmers plowing with their oxen for that is all I have seen any of them plow with. They use the horses and carts to haul with. I also saw a yoke of oxen hitched to a cart. The yokes are fastened to the horns of the cattle and not around the necks like the people do in our country.

One advantage of the army is seeing a lot of country. The people here are all good-natured. I can see the cattle and sheep in pastures close to the camp and the people working in the fields, and it is a familiar sight. We have three dogs with us, our mascot and two of her pups. If she gets home all right she will have a record, for she has been from coast to coast and border to border in the United States.

The company right next to us, which is G Co., from Greenfield, Ohio also brought over a dog which is a young one.

Everybody is well and in good spirits and I assure you I am too. There is a Y. M. C. A. right here and a canteen combined, and I bought some sandwiches after getting off the ship, and they were sure fine for we didn't get dinner till late in the afternoon.

It is sure queer here to hear the people stumbling along in their wooden shoes. Not all of them wear wooden shoes though. They seem to be satisfied and contented people, considering these war times. Their money is queer, too, and I will bring some home with me when I come back.

Our camp is much the same as over on the other side, except we have houses instead of tents. Well, I will close for this time. Will write again soon.

MEAT SHORTAGE LONG AFTER WAR

At the threshold of the 17th anniversary of the International Live Stock Exposition, its achievement needs no recounting. It has been a factor of prime importance in conserving and promoting the meat producing resources of the country.

Never has an industry been more in need of stimulation than at this moment and the "International" directory is redoubling its efforts in that direction.

We need more animal foods and will for many years to come. Between war and adverse climatic conditions all over the world production has been reduced to the smallest volume in many years, especially when measured by consumptive needs.

Even if the world went on a peace basis tomorrow, meat shortage would confront its population, and the task of recuperating flocks and herds in both hemispheres will be a work of many years. Repletion is a slower process than depletion.

When the beef, pork and mutton to feed the teeming multitudes of Europe and America during the next decade are coming from, is puzzling the master minds of the industry.

The "International" management desires to emphasize the certainty of high prices for everything in the shape of live stock or animal foods during the life of the present generation of producers.

To be properly impressed with these facts, visit the 1917 International at Chicago, the first week of December. To see and hear is to be convinced.

No tiller of American soil can afford to ignore live stock, either from a viewpoint of profit or patriotism.

COLDEST MORNING OF THE SEASON

Saturday morning was the coldest of the season, the mercury, according to the government thermometer in this city, touching 14 degrees early Saturday morning, while in some instances temperature as low as ten above was reported from some points in the country.

The cold has caused much discomfort to humanity in general, and particularly to those who are short of fuel and have not been able to keep their homes as warm as they desire.

HARTMAN THEATER (COLUMBUS)

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 3rd, 4th and 5th. Matinee Wednesday.

May Robson in "A Little Bit Old-Fashioned."

May Robson's latest success, "A Little Bit Old-Fashioned", a new melodramatic farce, will be presented at the Hartman Theatre, Columbus, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Wednesday matinee, Dec. 3, 4 and 5. The author, Anna Nichols, has evolved in this clever play an entirely original idea. The principal character in the play, is Mrs. Gordon Smith, who is a little bit old-fashioned. This fact is kept from her through a mistaken regard for her feelings and is about to bring her in to difficulty when she inadvertently becomes acquainted with the threatened danger and its possible results. She is more than equal to the emergency and proves herself of such sterling worth that mere accessories no longer matter.

The story is bright and novel and related in a vein of delightful comedy. Supporting Miss Robson, who is seen at her best as Mrs. Gordon Smith, is a company of well known players including Robert Lowe, Teresa Dale, Peggy Cameron, Edmund Dalby, Chas. Darrah, Howard I. Smith, Frederic Malcolm, Lillian Harmer, Jesma Shattuck and J. A. Kierman. Mail orders for this attraction are being received now.

NEW HIGH RECORD FOR U. S. TREASURY

Inflowing Liberty Loan Dollars
Total Almost Two Billion.
Will Recede Quickly.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, Nov. 24—The crest of the tide of inflowing liberty loan dollars was reached today when the net balance in the United States treasury reached the new high record of $1,921,000,000. Most officials believe this mark will not be exceeded for at least several months, when the huge returns from income and excess profits taxes and from future liberty loans roll in, although payments on the new issue of certificates of indebtedness, planned to counteract the tax returns, cannot be determined until after December 1.

Beginning tomorrow or Saturday the net balance is expected to fall rapidly, owing to the redemption of a large part of the $385,000,000 certificates of indebtedness due today, and to the government's expenditures of $55,000,000 daily, of which amount $17,000,000 is in loans to the allies. More than $1,500,000,000 has poured into the treasury from liberty loan payments within the past week.

Between now and December 15, when receipts from the 40 per cent liberty loan payment will begin to reach the treasury, $2,020,000,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness fall due. One factor which may cause a large part of these not to be presented for payment is the privilege accorded by Secretary McAdoo of exchanging these for certificates of the newest issue, payable June 25, 1918. Actual payment to the allies on the $3,876,000,000 credits previously granted today reached $3,066,000,000.

The Week's Work

The week comes to a close with developments in the war zone very much more encouraging than they were last week. The Italians are holding their own against the invading hosts of Germany and Austria. The army which retreated from the Isonzo front has rallied in spite of the insidious working of some influence which is not yet known, but which played havoc in the ranks of Cadorna's grand army.

The sweeping advances made by the British has demonstrated beyond all question, where the superiority rests on the west front. The Germans have been out-gunned and out-fought, defeated and driven out of their elaborate and supposedly impregnable trenches, driven at last into the open where, in the absence of the prevalence of unfavorable weather conditions to halt the British advances, they will be unable to gain "dig themselves into the ground" for protection.

The French are more than holding their own lines and the collapse of Russia, with the subsequent disorders may prove to be a help rather than a hindrance to the Allies.

Being relieved of feeding and financing Russia may more than equal the loss of that nation as an aggressive fighting unit. The allies can use their food and their money to better advantage now than sending it to the Russian mobs.

Then, too, we have a less unwieldy organization to handle. The masters of civilized warfare and the leaders of true democracy can co-ordinate their fighting forces and their resources better with the dead weight taken off.

On the whole the week's work in the war has brought cause for thanksgiving to civilization.

Unfortunately It's True

The office of the state fuel administration at Columbus has been heavily bombarded during the last week by inquiries fired from every section of the state asking how it is that breweries are supplied with coal and schools are compelled to close up because they can't obtain fuel.

The commission answers, in each instance, that it doesn't supply the breweries with fuel but urges as a reason why the breweries are supplied that they have business men, in control, who probably have a way of getting coal.

At first the question seems a little difficult to answer and then we read the fuel commission's answer and it seems a satisfactory explanation until we read it a second time.

Then we wonder why the state doesn't get a few business men who know how to get fuel and, if the worst comes to the worst and it is discovered that the only men who are able to get coal, in these times, are all tied up in managing breweries why the state doesn't close up the breweries and appoint some of those "efficient" managers on the fuel commission.

What the people need on the fuel commission and many in other posts of importance, now is good business men who know how to and actually do things. Less talk, and fewer promises and explanation and better results.

It may be remarked in passing that these brewery managers and other "business men" who have coal now days while the people, generally, are without coal, haven't done near as much talking as some of our public officials.

Not One Briton Captured

It is reliably reported that not one British soldier was captured in the great offensive under General Byng.

That's a marvelous achievement—it's glorious that the victorious commander is able to make such a report. It shows with what care and what intelligence and with what patient accuracy to detail, the great offensive was planned. It evidences a comprehensive grasp of the enormous plan, which took into account the most minute detail and left nothing to chance.

Above all though it is satisfactory explanation, to the anxious world, for the very deliberate movements of the commanders of allied forces, who have had, all the time, regard for the life of their soldiers. It explains, too, why the campaigns of the allies have not been marked by the crushing offensives that have been a feature of the German campaigns.

The Hun commanders have had no regard for the lives of their soldiers, hurling dense masses into the attack and yet other masses, one after the other, as the guns of the allied armies piled up the heaps of slain.

Humanity and inhumanity. While German commanders drove their men like dogs into the attack counting human life as nothing, Joffre and French, in the earlier years of the war, and now Haig and Petain have been mindful of the brave men who compose their armies. They have steadfastly used time, strategy and long range guns to open the gates of the defense lines, saving as much as cruel necessity would permit, the human units which make up their mighty fighting forces. The Huns have relied upon men—numbers of soldiers—to beat down their opponents.

"Over the top" through the boasted Hindenburg defenses and not one Briton captured.

That's a fact which is worth remembering.

Poetry For Today

SALUTE THE FLAG
Workman and president, clerk and the rest,
Citizens all when the colors fly;
Baring your head with your hand on your breast,
Stand and salute as the flag goes by!
Symbol of liberty, honor and love;
Crimson and silver, blue as the sky;
Spangled with stars like the heavens above,
Stand and salute as the flag goes by!
Reddened with blood which your forefathers shed,
Whitened with tears from many an eye;
Badge of your motherland, cloak for your dead;
Stand and salute as the flag goes by!

WHO'S YOUR BOSS?

You may be boss of many men, but are you boss of yourself? What do you make and in proportion, what do you save? Anybody can make money but it takes a wise man to save it. If you can keep your expenses down as your salary goes up you are on the right road. When you get a raise your first idea is "Now we can live in that apartment we were thinking about." Fine! ut ran you AFFORD it? Weren't you comfortable in the place you lived in before you got the raise? Wait 'till you get money ahead and it's WORKING FOR YOU—then get something better. Never mind what Soandoo does. Let him—or her—do it. Because they spend ALL and MORE than they make is no reason why you have to be as big a sucker as they are. Live a few jumps BACK of your salary instead of AHEAD of it.

OHIO NEWS

(By American Press)

Editor Dead.

Cincinnati, Nov. 24.—Clyde Allen, telegraph editor of the Cincinnati Times-Star and formerly occupying the same position on the Cincinnati Enquirer, died here after a lingering illness. He was one of the best known newspaper men in southern Ohio.

New Tax Duplicate.

Columbus, Nov. 24.—R. D. Alexander, member of the state tax commission, estimated this year's increase over last year's tax duplicate in Ohio will be approximately $600,000,000. This is the largest increase since 1911, when the last quadrennial real estate appraisal was made.

Dependents Have No Claim.

Columbus, Nov. 24.—When minors are employed contrary to the state laws, and they meet with an accident in the course of such employment, their dependents, if any, can not claim an award under the workmen's compensation law. This is the gist of an opinion rendered to the state industrial commission by Attorney General McGhee.

Pict Suspected.

Chillicothe, O., Nov. 24.—Secret service agents are looking for a man who left a 5-pound stick of dynamite in a meat shop after making a purchase. The man sought formerly was employed at Camp Sherman and officers suspect at attempt was to be made to destroy United States property. A woman who roomed at the same house also is sought.

Second Honors For Ohio.

Columbus, Nov. 24.—Ohio took second honors in the big Y. M. C. A. war work fund campaign which ended last Monday. Congratulations from all parts of the country are pouring in at the office of State Secretary J. W. Pontius, as the result of the fine showing made by the Buckeye state. Ohio's total subscription is $4,371,286. Illinois ranks third, New York leading the country.

Invaded Garfield's Home.

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—It has just been learned that the summer home of Harry A. Garfield, national fuel administrator, at West Mentor, near here, was ransacked a week ago. Nothing was taken. Police believe the invaders were searching for government papers. Silverware and other usual loot of burglars was left undisturbed. No government papers were in the house, it was said.

Lack of Coal Causes Suffering.

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—With thousands of Cleveland families shivering in their homes, owing to lack of coal, municipal and privately owned light plants threatened with the necessity of closing down, this city's coal situation is the most acute in the history of the fuel trade, according to city officials. State Fuel Administrator H. H. Johnson is in Washington conferring with Federal Fuel Administrator Garfield in the hope of finding relief for the crisis in Cleveland.

PLAN TESTAMENT FOR EACH SOLDIER

By Associated Press Dispatch.
New York, November 23.—A campaign to help build up army morale by putting a khaki testament in every soldier's kit has been given the united support of the federated churches, and the approval of the administration at Washington, according to an announcement made in this city yesterday at a meeting of the War Committee of the American Bible Society. James R. Wood, president of the American Bible Society, announced that the committee had approved plans to raise $400,000 for the immediate distribution of these testaments to all American soldiers and sailors now serving under the colors.

The money needed for the printing and distribution of these testaments will be raised through American Bible Week. The date announced for this week is December 1 to 11.

The committee announced that money could be contributed to the campaign through any federated church or local Bible agency or sent to the American Bible Society in New York City.

Mr. Wood said the work had been undertaken by the society in response to repeated demands from the Army and Navy chaplains, the Young Men's Christian Association, and other religious agencies working for the spiritual welfare of the men at the front. "The appeal which the campaign will make is one which is bound to awaken a response among thoughtful Christian people," said Mr. Wood. "We recognize that the maintenance of army morale is one of the surest ways of assuring victory, and we look to see the American army, not only the strongest, but the cleanest and noblest army at the front."

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

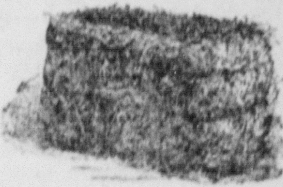

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Amid a fairy like arrangement of palms, ferns, smilax and chrysanthemums, Miss Marjorie Story and Dr. Samuel M. Sprout were married Thursday evening at the Story home by Rev. George K. Johnson. The architecture of the handsome old home furnished an ideal setting for the scene. Seventy guests were present. The ceremony was performed in the living room before the beautiful old fireplace. Palms and ferns formed the background of the improvised altar, and tall vases filled with white chrysanthemums and smilax sentinelled each side.

The bride was never sweeter or more charming than in her white tulle gown over silver cloth, made with a court train of the same material, banded with white satin. She wore a veil which was also of tulle with a Russian head dress of rose point lace. This head dress had previously been worn by the bride's cousin, Mrs. T. S. Pattison. Her bouquet was of orchids, with a shower of lilies on the valley. She wore the groom's gift, a diamond lavalliere set in platinum.

The maid of honor, little Miss Anne Story, sister of the bride, wore a dainty frock of point d'esprit over white. The bridesmaids, Miss Annette Sprout, sister of the groom, and Miss Emily Lewis of Detroit, wore gowns of rose satin with flowing tulle sleeves. They carried loose clusters of bronze chrysanthemums tied with shaded rose ribbons. Dr. and Mrs. Sprout left during the evening for an extended wedding trip, after which they will be located in Portola, California. After the departure of the bride and groom the guests had a merry time for several hours dancing.

Mrs. Willard Story was a guest from this city. The officers and board members of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be guests of the Wilmington Chapter at the home of Mrs. C. C. Nichols, Monday for a luncheon at half past one o'clock.

Those who expect to attend are the Regent, Mrs. W. B. Woodward; Vice Regent, Mrs. M. S. Daugherty; Mrs. Eliza Waddell, Secretary; Mrs. E. N. Holloway, Treasurer; Mrs. George A. Robinson, Registrar; Mrs. James A. Crawford, Historian; Miss Mabel Briggs, pianist; Miss Fannie Persinger, chairman of finance.

The home of Mrs. Jane Davis, on Hinde street was made the scene of a happy gathering of relatives to celebrate the 89th birthday anniversary of her brother, Mr. Giles H. Dixon of Greenfield. Those present with the honor guest and sister were his six sons, Thomas and Harry of Mt. Sterling, Isaac of Cooke, Henry of Rockford, Mercer county, and Chas. and Richard of Greenfield, with their families. All brought well filled baskets and the dinner and the afternoon together were much enjoyed by all.

Mr. Dixon was born in Bedford county, Virginia, 89 years ago. He came with his parents to this state in childhood and has been practically a life long resident of this county. Until the death of his wife several years ago since which time he has resided with his son Richard near Greenfield. Mr. Dixon is a veteran of the Civil War. His father was a soldier of the war of 1812 and his grandfather a Revolutionary soldier.

Mr. Dixon at the age of 89 is hale and hearty and bids fair to pass a milestone yet. Again on Friday Mrs. Austin F. Hopkins entertained sixteen guests at a luncheon, which in both beauty of appointment and charm of entertainment was the fac simile of the delightful affair of Thursday.

Mrs. Ellen Jones assisted her daughter in the spontaneous hospitality of the day. The guests were Mesdames Ruth Brownell, Ellen Cissna, Aurelia Weatherfield, Margaret Davenport, Ruth Dahl, H. L. Hadley, Lucy Prudens, Jos. N. Willson, Josephine Kerr, J. T. Tuttle, Wm. Boynton Gage, Misses Emma McDonald, Florence Ogle and Rose McLean.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lewis entertained the evening Euchre club pleasantly Friday evening. The comrades of the Millikan Post turned out well at the patriotic entertainment, Friday afternoon at Memorial Hall, and greatly enjoyed the program, which the Ladies of the G. A. R. gave in their honor.

Rev. D. H. Barre of St. Andrew's, always an eloquent speaker gave a splendid talk, one of tremendous appeal to the old soldiers, who crowded eagerly around home after the program. The two musical numbers with Miss Hazel Flowers at the piano and Hugh Perrill, who is an expert with the trap drums, made a decided hit, and were encored.

Miss Roberta Stokesbury, accompanied by Miss Marie Tharp sang beautifully, "The Song Dear Old Mother Used to Sing."

Miss Forest Allen was on the program for two readings, but was called to her home in Milledgeville by illness.

Elizabeth and Winifred Hicks, two young pianists delighted the audience with a piano duet.

"Your Flag and My Flag," recited by Morris Snyder was given with the spirit of a real patriot, and Catherine Snyder sang sweetly "The Flag that Means Home to Me."

A pretty violin solo by Miss Winifred Hicks accompanied by her mother, Mrs. J. Howard Hicks at the piano, was added to the program.

The committee felt very grateful to those, who were on the program and responded so liberally, in making the afternoon one of so much pleasure to the old soldiers.

Mr. Sam Harper, of Portsmouth, was the guest of his brother, Mr. Joseph H. Harper, and family the past two days.

Miss Rose McLean visited in Columbus several days this week.

Mrs. H. L. Stitt was a visitor in Columbus Friday.

Mrs. Jess Stauble of Dayton is the guests of Mrs. Ralph Ott over Sunday.

Mrs. Luther Brakefield, of Springfield, has been the guest of Mrs. Ralph Allen this week.

Miss Susan Putnam is spending the week-end at Maple Grove Hotel.

Mrs. Joseph Hidy, accompanied by her grandson, William Grey and grand-daughter Anna Rand, left Saturday morning for Cleveland, to visit Mrs. Hidy's daughter Mrs. Wm. Grey. Little Anna Rand will also visit her grandmother in Painesville.

Mrs. Werter Shoop and Miss Bess Shoop spent a couple of days in Columbus this week to hear Eddy Brown, noted American violinist, and Tina Lerner, pianist, in the Quality Concert series.

Miss Ada Richenbach has been spending a few days at her home in Harrison.

Mr. Harry Brown returned Saturday morning from Columbus, where he has been taking the Scottish rite degree of Masonary.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ellis, Misses Helen and Jean Palmer motored to Camp Sherman for the Y. M. C. A. entertainment, Friday night.

Miss Helen Wiloughby returned Saturday to her home in Mt. Sterling after a week's visit with Miss Faye Williams.

Mrs. Elizabeth Myers and Miss Matilda Myers are visiting in Columbus for a few days.

Miss Zella Patton returned to Columbus Saturday after a two weeks' visit with her mother, Mrs. Mary Patton.

Mrs. Richard Ramsey and little daughter, Jane, arrived from Akron, Friday morning to visit Mrs. Ramsey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tharp. Miss Lora Ellen Tharp joined her last evening to spend the Thanksgiving vacation at her home.

CHILLICOTHE BOYS HERE TO RETRIEVE THEIR LOST LAURELS

The sons of Chillicothe Hi came to Washington today to carry off the scalp of the Blue and White aggregation—maybe!

Chillicothe has been beaten once this year, by a score of 13 to 9, the trick being turned on their home gridiron, and this has served to heighten the interest in the contest.

Washington football fans marched to the local gridiron with the assurance of witnessing a battle royal from beginning to end.

At three o'clock the first half had been completed, and the score stood 7 to 9 in favor of the visitors.

EXCELLENT SUPPER PLEASES PATRONS

The Watch Tower Girls of Mrs. Fritz Meier's Sunday School Class of the Presbyterian church, served a delicious, hot chicken supper in the basement dining room of the church Friday night.

The tables were prettily decked with chrysanthemums and the girls were attractive and attentive waitresses, the supper was well patronized considering that the first real blast of winter had arrived.

Mrs. Meier and the Class President Miss Fern Williams, headed the committee in charge.

MEANING OF "BOCHE"

Boche (pronounced bosh, with broad o) is French slang, a nickname applied to the Germans. It is an abbreviation of the French caboché, a short nail with a large head, and as applied to the Germans means an obstinate, pigheaded person. It was used in familiar speech long before the war began.—Indianapolis News.

ALL OHIO EDUCATIONAL METHODIST JUBILEE CONFERENCE TONIGHT

All former, present, or prospective Methodist College students with their friends and all other friends of Methodist Colleges and of Christian Education generally are asked to meet in the parlors of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church here this (Saturday) evening at 7:30 o'clock for a rather informal conference on the All Ohio Educational Jubilee.

Dr. W. W. Davies and Dr. Morris Elnes, of the Ohio Wesleyan University and Dr. Wallace Flemming, President of West Virginia Wesleyan University (and possibly Dr. J. C. Jackson, District Superintendent) are expected to be present.

Dr. Flemming is expected also to occupy the pulpit at Grace Methodist Church tomorrow morning.

SWELLING FORCE OF NIGHT POLICE

Owing to recent disturbances, four new men have been added to the Police Force, beginning Saturday night, who are to continue in that capacity until further notice.

Chief Moore stated that the action in placing additional patrolmen on duty was at the urgent request of leading citizens, and the request for enough men to properly patrol the city.

The four men, in addition to the present patrolman, will permit one man being in almost every part of the city at comparatively frequent intervals.

MILLIONAIRE PAYS GETS SOME EXTRA

I. Fleischer, Cincinnati millionaire who was taken before Probate Judge Frank M. Allen, last Sunday, when picked up on the highway traveling at a speed said to have been in the neighborhood of 40 miles per hour, has forwarded his check to Judge Allen, for $23.50, or just ten dollars additional to what he would have paid if he had not announced his intention of standing trial and caused additional costs.

The man was very much chagrined when stopped by the officer, and declared he would fight the charge. After consulting his attorney he evidently changed his mind, as the check bears evidence.

BIG HOG SALE

W. H. Wilson, residing on the Spencer Calvert farm on the Worthington pike, recently sold a drove of hogs to Os Briggs, in this city, for which Mr. Briggs gave him a check for approximately $23,000.

The drove of hogs contained nearly 400 animals, and were marketed from this city.

COLD SNAP FAILS TO STOP DRILLS AT CAMP SHERMAN

(By American Press)

Chillicothe, O., Nov. 24.—Ohio and western Pennsylvania selects in training here experienced the coldest weather since their arrival at camp. However, they did not interfere with the training routine and all units were out drilling and doing various practice stunts as usual. A plentiful supply of fuel is on hand.

The "foreign legion" here, composed of French and British officers and noncoms, assured the men that it was a typical winter day such as they will experience when they arrive in France for real warfare and every man went to his work with a determination not to let weather conditions interfere with his duties.

Instructions came to the Three Hundred and Eighth engineers to construct a "barrel" or floating bridge across the Scioto river north of the camp. The bridge will serve as a means of crossing the stream to the new rifle range now under construction and will also give engineers some valuable practice in construction work.

MINSTREL SHOW AND PATRIOTIC PAGEANT

The pig musical event of Thanksgiving week will be the Thanksgiving Minstrels put on by the H. S. Glee clubs at the High School Auditorium Wednesday night, under Miss Sheen's direction.

It is being splendidly worked up and the real minstrel talent that is coming out will surprise and delight the audience.

The program is to be divided into three parts—part 1st a real minstrel show; part 2nd a Glee Club Concert and part 3rd a Patriotic Pageant.

The Glee Club boys are engaged in keen rivalry for the newest, cleverest jokes.

The concert program will be chiefly put on by the Girls' Glee Clubs, mixed choruses and a male quartet composed of Willis Willis, Mallow Hall, Arthur Lewis and Arthur Rothrock.

The Patriotic Pageant will be introduced by a specialty act given by the Girls' Glee Club.

The latest patriotic songs will be used and it will close with a patriotic song, "The Yankees are Coming," written by Mrs. H. L. Stitt and sung by both Glee Clubs with orchestra accompaniment.

The seat sale went on today and a number of seats have already been pulled.

CHAPTER V. The Accursed.

WHEN Dan saw Ewan's body shattered at the bottom of the cliffs after their furious struggle, he asked himself, "What have I done?" He covered his eyes with his hands and strode up and down the cliff head. Then, after a time, he saw a black thing looming against the darkened sky. It was the sail of a lugger.

Sea and sky were blotted out. He could not stand; he dropped to his knees. Great drops of perspiration stood out on his forehead. He tried to cry "Ewan! Ewan!" but could not. His lips moved, but no sound came from them.

Quaking in every limb, he picked up his clothes and turned toward the shore. Downward and downward he climbed, his bloodshot eyes glancing eagerly from side to side. At last he found what he sought at the foot of a jagged crag—the body of Ewan Mylrea, cold and dead. The body was stretched on its back and looked strangely peaceful.

Dan knelt by the body and tried to pray, but no prayer would come, and he could not cry.

"Ewan! Ewan!" he cried.

As he knelt there, oblivious of all else, the lugger had approached the shore. It was his own, and the men on board were members of his crew.

As they stooped over him and the body of his poor friend Dan looked up, but said not a word. When the men understood what had occurred they stood together and whispered, casting side looks at Dan and then long, searching looks at the body.

Then Davy, one of the crew, leaned over and touched the silenced heart.

"He is dead," he whispered.

At that these sea dogs, with big hearts in their rough breasts, took hold of each other's hands in a circle around Dan and made their mutual pledge.

All understood that they must take the body of Ewan to sea and so save their captain.

Dan stepped aside to let them pass out. He watched their movements with wide eyes. When they were gone he followed them mechanically, scarce knowing what he did.

In silence they carried the body of Ewan to the boat, and after all had got in they pushed off. In five minutes more they were standing out to sea with their freight of sorrow. When they were well away they gathered in knots, whispering among themselves.

When Dan stepped aboard a dull, dense aching of his heart was all the consciousness that he had. He had no clear purpose of concealing the facts of the struggle and none of carrying out an atonement. He was stunned.

"Oh, can this thing have happened?" he asked himself a dozen times.

No, it was not a nightmare. He would never awake in the morning and find the sun shining on him.

No, no, it was all too true. Then Dan thought of Mona, and his heart was nigh to breaking. With a dumb longing his eyes turned toward the land, and while the boat was sailing before the wind it seemed to be carrying him away from Mona forever.

The fishing boat lay motionless. The stars died off, the darkness came again, and then deep in the night the first stray gleams of dawn were seen.

A gentle breeze was rising in the southwest. The boat had drifted many miles and was now well out to sea.

As if at a given signal the men came up from below, one carrying an old sail and two heavy iron weights, used for holding down the nets. Silently they took Ewan and wrapped him in the canvas, with one weight at the head and another at the feet.

Awe and silence sat on the crew. When all was made ready the men brought from below a bank board used for shooting the nets. They lifted the body on it, and it slid down into the waste of waters.

But scarcely had the water covered up the body when there was a low rumble under the wave circles in which it had disappeared. It was the noise of the iron weights slipping from their places at the feet and at the head.

The stitching was giving way, and the weights were tearing open the canvas in which the body was wrapped.

In another minute these weights had rolled out of the canvas and sunk into the sea.

Then the body, free of the weights that were to sink it, rose to the surface. The torn canvas, not thoroughly saturated, acted like a sail in the little breeze that had come up. The tide was not yet strong, for the ebb had only just begun, and the body floated straight toward the shore.

Nor was the marvel ended yet. Almost instantly a strange, luminous light arose on the water, white as the moon's pathway, though there was no moon to make it. Flashing along the water in the direction of the land, it seemed to be the finger of destiny marking the body's path over the water to the shore, where it would be revealed to all men.

A Brother's Lack of Faith In His Sister's Honor Brings Appalling Consequences—After the Tragedy What Would You Do?—Read the Thrilling Story. See the Great Photo Play.

(Produced by Arrow Film Corporation.)

To the crew of the Ben-my-Chree all that had happened bore but one explanation. They were superstitious folks, these simple fishermen of the Isle of Man.

The men stood and stared into each others' faces in dismay. They strained their eyes to watch the body until, the strange light gone, they could see it no more.

It was as though an avenging angel had torn the murdered man from their grasp. But another thought lurked behind—the body of Ewan Mylrea would be washed ashore, the murder would become known, and they themselves, who had only thought to hide the crime of their captain, would now, in the eyes of the law, become participants in the crime or accessories to it.

Dan saw it all, and in a minute he was another man.

He read that incident by another light. It was God's sign to the guilty man, saying: "Atonement! Atonement!"

The body would not be buried. The crime could not be hidden. The penalty must be paid.

Then Dan thrust behind him all his vague fears and terrors. Atonement! Atonement! The words seemed to ring compellingly in his ears.

Dan leaped to his feet and cried: "Come, my lads, we must go back! Heave hearty and away!"

It was the first time that Dan had spoken that night, and his words were obeyed by his crew.

The wind strengthened, and the men hoisted sail and began to beat back to the island. The breeze filled the canvas, and for half an hour the jib lay over the side, while the fishing boat skidded along like a startled bird.

Burial of the Body at Sea.

The sun rose, and the men's haggard faces caught a lurid glow from it.

Dan stood at the helm and gazed in silence toward the eastern light and the green shores in the distance. Then he had a sweet half hour from terrible thoughts. He saw calmly what he had done and in what a temper of mad passion he had done it.

"Surely God is merciful," he thought and his mind turned to Mona.

It relieved him to think of her. She entwined herself with his yearning hope of pardon and grace. She became part of his scheme of penitence. His love for her was to redeem him in the eyes of heaven.

Calmly he thought of her beautiful face, with the wonderful deep blue eyes under the waving gold hair, and seemed to find solace in the lovely vision.

Meantime the crew had recovered from their first consternation. They had come aboard with no clear purpose but that of saving their friend, but they had thereby thrown in their lot with the guilty man.

Only one thought was uppermost in Dan's mind, and he could hardly wait to touch the soil of his native island. Smoothly at last they glided in, and Dan was the first to land.

With the same blind resolve in his mind he trudged the distance to the castle, where the Deemster laid down the law.

A crowd was gathered around the gates, muttering and whispering to themselves.

As Dan approached they fell back before the look in his eyes. He waved them aside, and through an open lane of townfolks he advanced to the iron door of the castle and knocked upon it.

"Open!" he commanded. "This is Dan Mylrea, and I have come to give myself up for the murder of my cousin Ewan."

SECOND CAMP FOR OFFICERS CLOSES TODAY

Camp Benjamin Harrison Turns Out Another Bunch of Officers After Three Months' Training.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24.—Active work at the second training camp open to civilians from Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Eastern Pennsylvania and West Virginia for commissions in the officers reserve corps ended at Fort Benjamin Harrison near here today.

Three months of intensive work which not only trained the minds of the students, but developed them physically until they are "as hard as nails" was the program through which they went. Part of the weather in the three months just ended was not very favorable to outdoor work, but the entire program was completed. The students went through much of the same work being given the men at the various national army camps, gaining knowledge of the actual fighting conditions.

The last few days of the present camp were devoted to working out war problems which aroused more than the usual interest among the men. One of the maneuvers was on Thursday, when the entire training camp entered the trenches to simulate heavy attack conditions. Five batteries of artillery participated, throwing a heavy barrage fire as the infantry advanced and withdrew by platoons and companies. Airplanes also took part in the attack. The public was allowed to witness the work from a safe distance.

For today the program was a parade by the entire camp this morning. Governor Stanley of Kentucky advised Lieut. Col. C. Reed, commanding officer at the camp, that he would be present. Gov. Cox of Ohio had also been invited. Indiana was represented by its state officials.

Names of the men to whom commissions will be issued were sent to Washington several days ago, and the plans were to announce them there. The second officers training camp was only about half as large in point of numbers as the first, which opened early last spring with 6,000 students present. When the first camp closed only about half of the number entering survived the rigid training and received commissions.

The present camp opened in August with about 3,000 men. The same rigid requirements, physically and mentally, applied at the first camp prevailed. Many dropped out, but about 2,000 remained until the camp closed. Three thorough physical examinations were given. The men were examined the time they made applications for entrance, again when they reported for training and the third time toward the close, the last examination being for the purpose of discovering any latent disabilities which might have been developed by the strenuous work.

The second camp attracted less attention than the first in many ways. At the first camp everything was new, and everybody was interested in just how an officer was made. At the second camp mistakes of the first camp were corrected, but the public had learned more or less what the training was like, and paid less attention to the student officers.

LABOR SITUATION GIVEN ATTENTION

This paper has received a letter from Warren W. Smith, Superintendent of the Free Employment Bureau for this county, written from Washington C. H., the office that has charge

FOR LUMBAGO

Try Musterole. See How Quickly It Relieves

You just rub Musterole in briskly, and usually the pain is gone—a delicious, soothing comfort comes to take its place. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Use it instead of mustard plaster. Will not blister. Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). Always dependable. 30 and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

of the affairs of the Bureau in Fayette and Clinton counties.

Mr. Smith explains that there is a great shortage of laborers though his department has been doing everything possible to secure help for farmers and others needing laborers of any kind.

In retaliation of the complaint of farmers that the Bureau is not aiding them in securing help, he states that few if any requests have come in from farmers for help, and he expresses his inability to comply with the wishes of the people of the district in regard to supplying them laborers, when they do not ask for help.

He says that he finds it next to impossible to get help for cutting wood and doing many kinds of farm work this time of year.—Wilmington News.

ATHLETICS PLEASE THE BOYS IN CAMP

The work of Physical Director David Parker and his group of tumblers and pyramid builders, at Camp Sherman, Friday night, was greatly appreciated by a large audience of soldiers, who expressed their approval of the clever stunts in no uncertain manner.

The party ate supper with the Fayette county men in the camp, and learned first hand of what soldier life really is. They found all of the men in excellent condition.

Following the supper the various stunts were put on at Y. M. C. A. building No. 78, and the entertainers returned to this city, arriving about nine-thirty.

LEAVES DYNAMITE ON THE COUNTER

Secret service agents in Chillicothe are looking for an unknown man who made a purchase at the Kirsch meat market in that city this week, and walked out, leaving a five pound chunk of dynamite on the counter.

The dynamite was wrapped in a piece of paper, and was 60 per cent nitroglycerine.

The man was a stranger, and is believed to have been an alien enemy who meant to destroy some government property at or near the camp.

INSANE MAN GOES BACK TO COLUMBUS AFTER EXCITEMENT

Paul Potts, released from the Insane Asylum at Columbus on October 31st, was in this city Friday, and created some excitement when he walked into a local barber shop and asked for a German to shave him, and talked very much pro-German while being shaved.

After the shave the fellow at first declined to pay his bill because the barber was very much American, and the matter was called to the attention of the authorities, who took the fellow in tow for investigation, and quickly discovered that he was unbalanced, and had the war very much on his disordered brain.

It was learned that the man was only released from the asylum a short time ago, and as he had a return ticket to Columbus, he was sent back to that city.

THANKSGIVING

For the poor shall never cease of the land, therefore I command thee, saying, thou shalt open thine hand wide unto thy brother to thy poor and to thy needy in thy land.—Deut. 15:11.

On the account of the high cost of living and coal to warm the building, we will not be able to give a free dinner to the poor and others, as we, by the help of the people, did last Thanksgiving. But we hope those that are able, will remember the poor, with a Basket Dinner, sent to their homes. Many are almost suffering for fuel to warm them, and tables empty.

God will reward you. "For they that give to the poor, lendeth to the Lord."—Bible.

We will have services at the Bible School room Thanksgiving, 2:30 p. m. A welcome to all.

J. H. McKIBBEN.

SUGAR SITUATION STILL VERY ACUTE

The sugar situation is still very acute. Local grocers have a small supply on hand, but only twenty-five cents worth is sold to a customer at one time. Shipments are expected to arrive by Monday, but these will be insufficient to relieve the shortage for a few weeks, it is believed.

REBEKAH KENSINGTON.

The Ladies of Imperial Rebekah Lodge will have a Kensington at the home of Annette Stafford on E. Market street, Tuesday afternoon, November 27th, at 2 o'clock. Please bring pieces to make comforts for I. O. O. F. Home, Christmas Box. Also bring needles and thread.

THE Detroit ELECTRIC
Today's Car of Utility and Economy

60 Detroit Electrics Out-travel 60 Gas Cars

See what this test proves as to the mileage and utility of the modern Detroit Electric.

An accurate check was made of the speedometer readings of 60 Detroit Electrics in 10 different cities. The check covered 60 days.

It showed that each day these Detroit Electrics traveled from 30 to 90 miles.

They averaged 51 miles per day.

A check was also made upon 60 gas cars in these 10 cities. This check also covered the same 60 days.

It showed that each of these gas cars traveled from 27 to 65 miles as against the Detroit Electrics 30 to 90 miles.

The gas cars averaged 42 miles per day as against the Detroit Electrics 51 miles per day.

There are two very important facts established by this test.

First, it proves that the average Detroit Electric owner uses his car more than the average gas car owner.

One factor in this is that all the members of the family can drive a Detroit Electric easily and safely. That is not true of the heavy gas car with complicated mechanism.

Second, it proves that the Detroit Electric has a greater mileage on a single charge of the battery than you need or use in a day.

It will give 80 to 100 miles on a charge.

Yet of the 60 gas car owners none traveled more than 65 miles a day.

Come in and let us give you some further interesting facts about the Detroit Electric.

ANOTHER PRIZE COMES TO THE CITY

For the second time in as many weeks the first prize in the Columbus Dispatch receipt contest has come to this city. This time Miss Ellen Montgomery, 355 East Paint street, won the $2 prize with the following receipt for mince meat:

Stew gently 2 lbs. of lean beef in a very little water until quite tender, let it become cold and chop as finely as possible; 1 lb. of finely chopped beef suet; 4 lbs. of peeled, cored and chopped tart apples; 3 lbs. of sugar, 3 lbs. of currants; 2 lbs. of raisins, 1 grated nutmeg, 1-2 teaspoonful of ground mace, the grated rind of 2 oranges and 1 lemon, tablespoonful of salt, juice of half dozen oranges and 2 lemons, 1 wine glass of brandy. Thoroughly mix and pack in a stone jar.

Bevo

Put on the Bevo Glasses when you set the table for the Bevo you've prepared for the guests of the evening. As a suggestion for a dainty lunch: Cream cheese and chopped olive sandwiches (on brown bread), Dill pickles, Shrimp salad, Ice cold Bevo.

Itself a nutritive drink, Bevo makes an appetizing and delightful addition to any meal—hot or cold, light or heavy.

Bevo—the all-year-round soft drink.

Sold in bottles only and bottled exclusively by ANHEUSER-BUSCH—ST. LOUIS
